ABOUT DELLWOOD

Dellwood Park in Lockport, IL, was built in 1905-1906 by the Chicago & Joliet Electric Railway Company to promote ridership on the line, according to the Lockport Area Genealogical & Historical Society. It was a main attraction on the rail line and boasted an amusement park for over 30 years. At that time, the area that is now holes 17 and 18 of the disc golf course was a lagoon!

The disc golf course in Dellwood Park is named The Canyons because of its unique rock formations and elevation. The original course layout was 18-holes and it was designed by Steve Matul (PDGA #8) and Sean Callahan (PDGA #41210); with the help of Roy Carey, Steve Schlack, Steve Olson, Jason Poole, Jose Herrera and Sheila Callahan.

The Grand Opening of the course was on September 20, 2014. Since then, it has expanded to 27-holes and is one of the Top 10 courses to play in the world, according to UDisc.

The Dellwood Disc Golf ("Dellwood") pro shop, which is onsite in Dellwood Park, originally opened on April 1, 2015, and has expanded twice since the original shop design. Dellwood continues to run tournaments throughout the year at Dellwood Park and offsite for the ever-growing disc golf community.

"DISC GOLF NEVER GETS EASIER, YOU JUST GET BETTER."

THE CANYONS

Dellwood is a destination course. The scenery is gorgeous and the course design provides a great challenge. There are 18 regular holes with 9 alternates, allowing for a total of 27 holes. Its unique terrain features extreme elevation, wooded technical holes, and a flat wide-open landscape for big air shots. Below is the course layout from the White Tees to the A-pin placements (distance is measured in feet). The course map and scorecard can be accessed through UDisc by scanning the QR code below.
